The Word

Being Good Comes From Above

In the world, which we live in, the most recognizable gift of God is his revelation through the natural goodness of the human heart. Kindness is all around us in different forms so there are occasions when we almost tend to take it for granted. We expect others, fellow human beings to allow us to give it so we can receive it. However, as Christians we incline to forget to associate goodness with the grace of God, the love of the Son and the works of the Holy Spirit. The true and genuine prayer of the heart is something that connects us to God with sincerity. All of us own it. Human beings on this earth carry it and practice it regardless of believing it or denying it. We could not exist without the prayers and wishes to our Creator. He listens and addresses our prayers even if they are not being formed into words that escapes our lips, in troubling times and hardships in life the Good Shepherd attends to our needs. God has the unthinkable power of providing us with hope through simple care and goodness that we might never be able to entirely understand.

“Because one person disobeyed God, many became sinners. But because one other person obeyed God, many will be made righteous.”

The Season of Lent, 2015

Our congregation will start the season of lent on Ash Wednesday with an ecumenical worship service in our sanctuary at 10AM, on February 18th. On the following Sunday we take Holy Communion during both worship services.

Hamvazószerdán, február 18.-án, ökumenikus istentiszteletet tartunk templomunkban reggel 10 órától. Böjt első vasárnapján megterítjük az Úrasztalát és Úrvacsorát veszünk mindkét istentiszteleten.

His Memory Shall Never Leave Us

In December of 2014 hundreds of people visited our church at the funeral of our friend and fellow servant of the Lord, Leonard R. Sendelsky. They shared their stories and memories of Mr. Sendelsky with love and passion, which reminded me to the legendary American author, Mark Twain's thoughts, when he once said, "Keep away from people who try to belittle your ambitions. Small people always do that, but the really great make you feel that you, too, can become great."

Mr. Leonard Sendelsky who was a chief elder of our church for fifty years was one of the people that Mark Twain would call really great. He was a charismatic man, with the purpose of making people feel respected and loved. He was a devoted Christian and a family man thinking relentlessly to help others. We all miss him and will always remember him as one whose life was about to give and care for others.

Jónak lenni jó

A világban az Isten legfelismerhetőbb ajándéka az az Isteni jelenlét, az az Isteni megnyilvánulás, ami az emberi jóság természetességében mindenki számára érzékelhető. Sokszor ezt a jóságot, ezt az ajándékot mi mind könnyedén tekintjük az életünk részének. Másoktól elvárjuk, hogy velünk ezt a jóságot megosszák és számunkra is természetes, akkor is ha semmink sincs, de valami jóval tudjunk szolgálni másoknak. Hasonló a természetes és Istentől kapott jósághoz

a szívből jövő imádság is. Ez egy ajándék, ami mindannyiunk számára adott, ami a rendelkezésünkre áll. Az emberek ezen a földön mind magukénak tudhatják és használhatják az imádságot, még azok is, akik ezt mint nem hívő emberek esetleg letagadják vagy nem képesek nyíltan beismerni. Mi emberek imádság nélkül nem tudnánk létezni. Az Isten tudja, meghallgatja azt, amit a szívünk rebeg még akkor is, ha azt mi nem is öntjük szavakba, még akkor is, ha mi azt az imádságot magunk elöl is titkolni kívánjuk. A jó Isten figyelmesen, odaadóan feldolgozza imáinkat, a Jó Pásztor gondoskodik rólunk még ha mi azt a gondoskodást sokszor nem is tudjuk megérteni, mi, akik kiszolgáltatott, kóborló bárányai vagyunk a nyájnak.

We Love Music

Our third annual advent concert was organized in 2014 by the Zion Lutheran Church of Carteret, the First Presbyterian Church of Carteret and our church. Among the performers were several friends and members of our church along with the talented, award winning singer and actress, Tunde Csonka. We look forward to host our next musical event in May 2015, during our Third Annual Hungarian Heritage Day.
