

The Word

Season of the Spirit

“So we are made right with God through faith and not by obeying the law” Romans 3:28

While the season is changing, it is reminding us of things that are gone, yet we still find solace in God. The evenings and mornings are dark and cool, yet we remain bright and hopeful that even the small flames of a candle can bring us something new and something warm. God blesses us with new life if we have love in our heart, when we have faith in Christ, our Lord. Brothers and sisters, we have arrived to the special time of the year, when we can summarize the year. We take inventory, we look back and realize that God was good to us, God was merciful to us, God never stopped loving us and God remains with us and delivers us from the darkness that we fall into time to time again. May this season strengthen our faith in the Lord, so we can be made worthy of declaring his holy name as the King of the universe, the source of life and hope. Let us count our blessings and give thanks to the Lord from the bottom of our hearts. Let us praise God and bow down to receive the sacred and intimate reality of the living God as we will patiently await for the holy child, the anointed one, God’s only beloved Son, our Savior. Believe and you may receive righteousness and entry to the kingdom of the Lord.

A Várta

Fölégettem az összes hidakat,
Egyedül állok örök ég alatt.

Nem kell a kincs és nincs már
szerelem,
Csak a magány és szegénység
van velem.

Nem lázadok már és nem
álmodom
És nem sírok a földi romokon.

Meghaltam sokszor és nem élek én.
De mindeneknek bánata enyém.

Jövő minden reményét ringatom,
Mint a vihart és fészket a falomb.

Így állok örök békeességbe már
S az Istent várom, aki földre száll.
